

Abstract of the Disclosure

2 A motorcycle or bicycle front end having coaxial steering and suspension components, 3 and having telescopic forks. Swing weight of the forks is dramatically reduced by removing their 4 suspension components to the central location, coaxially within the steering tube. Ride height 5 can be adjusted without loosening the forks in the triple clamps.